

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

DARNELL DUKES.

Civil No. 12cv2180 BAS (BGS)

Plaintiff,

V.

D. FOSTON, CDCR Director; et al.,

Defendants.

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION GRANTING DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

[ECF No. 36.]

I. INTRODUCTION AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

Plaintiff Darnell Dukes, a state prisoner proceeding pro se and in forma pauperis, filed a Complaint on September 4, 2012, pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §1983 against several defendants including Defendants E. Alvarez, M. Chacon and D. Gambold. (“Compl.”, ECF No. 1.) On March 1, 2013, Defendants’ filed a motion to dismiss Plaintiff’s two causes of action alleging retaliation and the denial of access to courts. [ECF No. 15-1.]

On June 25, 2014, the Honorable Marilyn L. Huff granted Defendants' motion to dismiss Plaintiff's claim for denial of access to courts against all of the defendants. [ECF No. 28.] Plaintiff's First Amendment retaliation claim was also dismissed against some,<sup>1</sup> but not all of the defendants. Accordingly, out of the two causes of action originally

<sup>1</sup>Plaintiff's First Amendment retaliation claim was dismissed with prejudice as to Defendants Foston, Sullivan, Beauchemin and Briggs.

1 pleaded in the Complaint, only a First Amendment retaliation claim against Defendants
 2 E. Alvarez, M. Chacon and D. Gambold remains.

3 On April 14, 2014, Defendants filed a motion for summary judgment. [ECF No.
 4 36.] Plaintiff was informed by the Court and by Defendants of the requirements for 5 opposing summary judgment pursuant to Klingele v. Eikenberry, 849 F.2d 409 (9th Cir.
 6 1988) and Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc) [ECF No. 36-2; ECF
 7 No. 42.]

8 After receiving an extension of time to oppose the motion for summary judgment
 9 motion, Plaintiff filed a response in opposition on June 6, 2014. [ECF. No. 43.]
 10 Defendants filed their reply on July 14, 2014. [ECF No. 46.] This matter has been 11 referred to the undersigned Magistrate Judge for a Report and Recommendation
 12 (“R&R”). [ECF No. 41.] For the reasons set forth below, the Court RECOMMENDS
 13 that Defendants E. Alvarez, M. Chacon and D. Gambold’s motion for summary judgment
 14 be GRANTED.

15 II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND<sup>2</sup>

16 On February 25, 2011, Dukes was transferred to the Richard J. Donovan 17 Correctional Facility (“RJD”) on “out-to-court status” to attend a civil trial. See Compl.
 18 at 5. Duke arrived in the Receiving and Release department where he felt a large amount 19 of tension upon undergoing a strip search. Dukes was subsequently placed in a holding 20 cell where he observed correctional officers searching his personal property. Defendant
 21 Chacon approached Dukes and asked him why he was transferred to RJD. When Dukes 22 responded that he was present for a court matter, Defendant Chacon stated that the 23 officers knew why he was there and walked away “agitated.” Id.

24 Next, an officer from the Administrative Segregation Unit (“ASU”) arrived to 25 escort Dukes to the ASU facility. Before being placed in restraints, Dukes asked if his 26 property would be sent with him because he was only in the ASU due to his out-to-court 27 status as opposed to disciplinary reasons. Id. at 5. Dukes then demanded to speak to

---

28 <sup>2</sup> These allegations are taken from Plaintiff’s Complaint. [ECF Doc. No. 1.]

1 supervisor Defendant Alvarez about taking, at the very least, his legal documents with 2 him to the ASU. Defendant Alvarez told Dukes “ No. You had something to do with one
 3 of my fellow officers being fired so you ain’t getting sh*t in here!” After this exchange,
 4 Dukes asked to talk with Defendants Chacon and Gambold. Both Chacon and Gambold
 5 came to the holding cell door and said, “[I]t’s going to get ugly if we have to come in 6 there to cuff you up!” Gambold said, “This is part of the game ... you started filing
 7 paperwork.” Id. at 6. Chacon stated, “Dukes this is your last chance to cuff up, you 8 should of thought about it before you got one of us fired.” Id. at 7.

9 Dukes observed various officers near the holding cell preparing for a confrontation 10 by taking out their pepper spray and batons. He then decided to ask the ASU officer if he 11 would handcuff him. The ASU officer placed Dukes in handcuffs and escorted him to 12 the ASU without any of his property. Id. at 8. Dukes did not receive his personal 13 property until March 4, 2011. However, his trial had ended by the time the property
 14 was provided to him. Id. at 9.

15 III. LEGAL STANDARD ON SUMMARY JUDGMENT

16 Summary judgment is proper where there is no genuine issue of material fact in 17 dispute and the moving party has shown it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Bias
 18 v. Moynihan, 508 F.3d 1212, 1218 (9th Cir. 2007) (citing FED.R.CIV.P. 56c). Under 19 summary judgment practice, the moving party always bears the initial responsibility of 20 informing the district court of the basis for its motion, and identifying those portions of “the 21 pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the 22 affidavits, if any,” which it believes demonstrate the absence of a genuine issue of material
 23 fact. Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323 (1986) (quoting FED.R.CIV.P. 56c); Zoslaw
 24 v. MCA Distrib. Corp., 693 F.2d 870, 883 (9th Cir. 1982). The “purpose of summary 25 judgment is to ‘pierce the pleadings and to assess the proof in order to see whether there is 26 a genuine need for trial.’” Matsushita Elec. Indus. Co., Ltd. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S.
 27 574, 587 (1986) (citations omitted).

28 If the moving party meets its initial responsibility, the burden then shifts to the

1 nonmoving party to establish, beyond the pleadings, that there is a genuine issue for trial.
 2 Celotex, 477 U.S. at 324; Bias, 508 F.3d at 1218. To avoid summary judgment, the non-3 moving party is “required to present significant, probative evidence tending to support h[is]
 4 allegations,” Bias, 508 F.3d at 1218 (citations omitted), and must point to some evidence 5 in the record that demonstrates “a genuine issue of material fact [which], with all reasonable 6 inferences made in the plaintiff[’s] favor, could convince a reasonable jury to find for the 7 plaintiff[.]” Reese v. Jefferson School Dist. No. 14J, 208 F.3d 736, 738 (9th Cir. 2000)
 8 (citing FED.R.CIV.P. 56; Celotex, 477 U.S. at 323; see also Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 9 477 U.S. 242, 249 (1986). To “defeat a summary judgment motion ..., the non-moving party
 10 ‘may not rest upon the mere allegations or denials’ in the pleadings.” FED.R.CIV.P. 56(e); 11 Berg v. Kincheloe, 794 F.2d 457, 459 (9th Cir. 1986) (opposing party cannot rest solely on 12 conclusory allegations of fact or law). Instead, the non-moving party “must establish the 13 existence of a genuine factual dispute on the basis of admissible evidence; bare allegations
 14 without evidentiary support are insufficient to survive summary judgment.” Estate of Tucker 15 ex rel. Tucker v. Interscope Records, Inc., 515 F.3d 1019, 1033 n.14 (9th Cir. 2008).

16 However, the evidence of the opposing party is to be believed. See Anderson, 477
 17 U.S. at 255; Leslie v. Grupo ICA, 198 F.3d 1152, 1159 (9th Cir. 1999) (The nonmoving
 18 party’s declaration or sworn testimony “is to be accepted as true .... [The non-movant’s]
 19 evidence should not be weighed against the evidence of the [movant].”) (citation 20 omitted). All reasonable inferences that may be drawn from the facts placed before the 21 court must be drawn in favor of the opposing party. See Matsushita, 475 U.S. at 587;
 22 Anderson, 477 U.S. at 255). At the summary judgment stage, “[c]redibility
 23 determinations, the weighing of the evidence, and the drawing of legitimate inferences
 24 from the facts are jury functions, not those of a judge.” Anderson, 477 U.S. at 255;
 25 Dominguez-Curry v. Nevada Transp. Dep’t, 424 F.3d 1027, 1036 (9th Cir. 2005); see 26 also Hoover v. Switlik Parachute Co., 663 F.2d 964, 968 (9th Cir. 1981)(finding district
 27 court erred in granting summary judgment when the affidavits and other evidence raised 28 credibility issues); United States v. Two Tracts of Land in Cascade County, Montana, 5

1 F.3d 1360, 1362 (9th Cir. 1993) (reversing district judge's decision to grant summary
 2 judgment based upon an assessment of nonmoving party's credibility).

3 IV. DISCUSSION

4 At the summary judgment stage, the Defendant, as the moving party, bears the 5 burden of proving no material facts are in dispute. FED.R.CIV.P. 56. Accordingly, 6 Defendants must demonstrate Dukes does not possess adequate evidence to establish he 7 was denied his property upon transfer to the ASU "in retaliation" for his filing complaints
 8 and lawsuits and for having one of Defendants' colleagues fired. [ECF No. 1 at 6:27-9 7:3.]

10 Prisoners have a fundamental "right[s] to file prison grievances," Bruce v. Ylst, 351
 11 F.3d 1283, 1288 (9th Cir. 2003), and to "pursue civil rights litigation in the courts."
 12 Schroeder v. McDonald, 55 F.3d 454, 461 (9th Cir. 1995). "Without those bedrock
 13 constitutional guarantees, inmates would be left with no viable mechanism to remedy 14 prison injustices." Rhodes v. Robinson, 408 F.3d 559, 567 (9th Cir. 2005). "And because 15 purely retaliatory actions taken against a prisoner for having exercised those rights
 16 necessarily undermine those protections, such actions violate the Constitution quite apart 17 from any underlying misconduct they are designed to shield." Id. (citing Pratt v.
 18 Rowland, 65 F.3d 802, 806 & n.4 (9th Cir. 1995)); see also Thomas v. Carpenter, 881 19 F.2d 828, 830 (9th Cir. 1989) (noting that because retaliation by prison officials may chill
 20 an inmate's exercise of his legitimate First Amendment rights, such conduct is actionable 21 even if it would not otherwise rise to the level of a constitutional violation).

22 "[A] viable claim of First Amendment retaliation entails five basic elements: (1)
 23 An assertion that a state actor took some adverse action against an inmate; (2) because of;
 24 (3) that prisoner's protected conduct, and that such action; (4) chilled the inmate's
 25 exercise of his First Amendment rights; and (5) the action did not reasonably advance a 26 legitimate correctional goal." Rhodes, 408 F.3d at 567-68 (footnote omitted) (citing 27 Resnick v. Hayes, 213 F.3d 443, 449 (9th Cir. 2000); Barnett v. Centoni, 31 F.3d 813, 28 815-16 (9th Cir. 1994)).

1 Defendants move for summary judgment of Dukes' retaliation claim against 2 officers Alvarez, Chacon and Gambold on the grounds that there are no genuine issues of 3 material fact in support of the adverse action or causation elements of Dukes' retaliation
 4 claim. Specifically, Defendants argue that as correctional officers assigned to the 5 Receiving and Release Department, they had no control or authority over Dukes'
 6 property, which was under the authority and control of the property officer in the ASU
 7 where Dukes was housed. (See Defs. Memo of Ps & As in Supp. of MSJ, ECF Doc. No.
 8 53-1, at 4-10.) In the declaration of K. Spence, a Lieutenant in the ASU at the Donovan 9 prison, he explains the property and policy procedures for the ASU as follows:

10       “When inmates are transferred to a new prison for court proceedings, they 11 first arrive in the Receiving and Release department of the receiving prison. They 12 arrive directly in this department, and are processed inside the department.

13       Once this intake process is done, inmates are automatically transferred to the 14 ASU. Inmates are kept in ASU until an Institutional Classification Committee 15 meets with the inmate to determine their new housing assignment. This process is 16 done in order to protect the safety and security of the inmate, other inmates, and 17 staff by determining the most appropriate housing assignment for the transferred 18 inmate. In other words, virtually every inmate transferred to Donovan prison for 19 court proceedings is sent to ASU.

20       When inmates are done with processing in the Receiving and Release 21 department, they are escorted to ASU by ASU officers. Officers from the 22 Receiving and Release department do not escort or transfer the inmates to ASU.

23       Inmates are allowed limited personal property in ASU. If an inmate wants
 24 personal property in ASU, the inmate must request the property from the ASU
 25 officers using a property request form. In fact, there is an assigned ASU property
 26 officer who serves this very role of controlling and delivering property for ASU 27 inmates.

28       All requests for property made by ASU inmates are controlled and 29 responded to by the ASU property officer. If the ASU property officer grants an 30 inmate's request for property, the ASU officer must personally search the property
 31 and deliver it from Receiving and Release to the inmate in ASU. Thus, the timing
 32 and receipt of an ASU inmate's property is controlled by ASU staff.”

33 Spence Decl., ECF No. 36-6 at 2:5-3:5.

34       ///

35       ///

36       ///

1     1. Element One - Was an Adverse Action Taken Against an Inmate?

2         Defendants argue they did not take any adverse action against Dukes because the 3 RJD policy does not permit officers assigned to the Receiving and Release Department to 4 authorize or provide property to inmates; therefore, they lacked the authority or ability to 5 withhold Dukes' property from him. [Alvarez Decl., ECF No. 36-3 at 4:1-12.] Each of 6 the defendants states in their declarations that the Receiving and Release department is 7 just a temporary way station for inmates admitted to RJD and that the property officer for 8 the ASU, where Dukes was actually housed, had control over the disposition of his 9 property. Id.; see also Gambold Decl., ECF No. 36-5 at 3:19-4:2; Chacon Decl., ECF
 10 No. 36-4 at 3:19-4:2.]

11         In opposition, Dukes contends Alvarez told him "you ain't getting sh*t in here"
 12 and consequently, he did not receive his property until March 4, 2011, which occurred
 13 seven days after his arrival at RJD on February 25, 2011. [See Dukes Opp'n, ECF No. 43
 14 at 4:2-5:11.] Dukes also submits his own declaration and a declaration from fellow
 15 inmate, Gerry Williams, in support of the assertion that despite the RJD policy, there 16 have been instances where inmates have received their property at the same time they are 17 transferred and escorted to ASU.

18         In the declarations, Dukes and Williams recount separate, unrelated incidents 19 occurring before and after the 2011 incident at issue in this case, where they arrived in the 20 Receiving and Release department at RJD and were allowed to have their documents 21 transferred with them to the ASU. Specifically, inmate Williams states that in June of 22 2007, upon transfer to RJD, he was allowed to keep his legal documents. Williams,
 23 however, does not identify whether a Receiving & Release officer or an ASU officer 24 authorized him to have property at the time of his transfer to ASU. Plaintiff states in his 25 declaration that in December of 2012, upon transfer to RJD, Defendant Gambold
 26 "searched plaintiff's property and immediately issued it to plaintiff." [See Dukes' Opp'n ,
 27 ECF No. 43 at 9.]

1 Defendants have established their burden of demonstrating that there is a policy at 2 RJD that gives control over the transfer of property to the ASU to the designated ASU
 3 property officer, not Receiving & Release officers. In response, Plaintiff contends that 4 there is an off-the-books exception to this policy which the defendants could have 5 exercised, but did not, that would have allowed his property to be transferred with him to 6 the ASU. This information, however, is insufficient to combat Defendants' motion for 7 summary judgment. It is undisputed that there is a policy preventing Receiving and 8 Release officers from authorizing a transfer of inmate property to the ASU. Plaintiff's
 9 declaration does not negate the existence of this policy. What Plaintiff's declaration 10 essentially does is confirm that Defendants followed the policy on the day of the incident
 11 at issue in this suit, but may have violated that policy in their discretion in other years.
 12 The fact that Defendants followed the policy with respect to Dukes is not an adverse 13 action, and Dukes does not submit evidence showing that a mandatory "out-to-court 14 status" exception to the policy exists that would otherwise authorize Receiving and 15 Release officers to transfer inmates to the ASU with their property. No genuine issue of 16 material fact exists as to the first required element of Dukes' First Amendment retaliation
 17 claim. Accordingly, the Court RECOMMENDS that Defendants E. Alvarez, M. Chacon
 18 and D. Gambold's motion for summary judgment be GRANTED.<sup>3</sup>

19       V. CONCLUSION

20       This Report and Recommendation of the undersigned Magistrate Judge is 21 submitted to the United States District Judge assigned to this case, pursuant to the 22 provision of 28 U.S.C. section 636(b)(1). For the reasons set forth above, it is

---

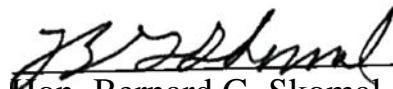

23       <sup>3</sup> The Court has recommended a finding that Dukes fails to meet the first element necessary to 24 prevail on a retaliation cause of action. Therefore, there is no need to address Defendants' arguments as 25 to the second element; causation. The Court does note, however, that Dukes has failed to show a causal 26 connection between the three defendants in Receiving and Release, who were following policy, and a 27 chilling effect. The delay Dukes experienced in receiving his property may have occurred due to his 28 failure to follow ASU policy. Specifically, there has been no evidence submitted to the Court indicating that upon his arrival in the ASU, Dukes submitted a property request form to the ASU property officer as required. See Spence Decl., ECF No. 36-6 at 2:5-3:5 (stating an inmate must request property from the ASU property officer using a property request form). If Dukes had completed the form and submitted it to the designated ASU property officer in conformance with the policy, he may not have experienced a delay.

1      RECOMMENDED that Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment be GRANTED.

2      IT IS ORDERED that no later than December 29, 2014 any party to this action
3 may file written objections with the Court and serve a copy on all parties. The document
4 should be captioned "Objections to Report and Recommendation."

5      IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that any reply to the objections shall be filed with 6 the Court and served on all parties no later than January 12, 2015. The parties are 7 advised that failure to file objections within the specified time may waive the right to 8 raise those objections on appeal of the Court's order. See Turner v. Duncan, 158 F.3d
9 449, 455 (9th Cir. 1998).

10     DATED: December 10, 2014

11    
12     Hon. Bernard G. Skomal
13     U.S. Magistrate Judge
      United States District Court